SEVEN GENERATIONS OF THE HOOD FAMILY

John Hood was born in South Carolina in 1775. His wife Mary was born in Georgia in 1790. After their marriage they moved to the south central part of the new state of Mississippi. Here, in spite of the hardships and dangers of living on the edge of the frontier, they raised a family of six children; John (born 1826), Samuel O. (born 1828), Calvin (born 1833), Colon (born 1836), Emeline (born 1838), and Amelie (born 1841).

We are the descendents of Samuel O. and his wife Mary. Their children were John (born 1855), Joseph Columbus (born 7-10-1856), Louis Patrick (born 3-10-1859), and Laura (born 1863). John was killed about 1875 and was never married. Of Samuel's siblings we know very little. According to the 1860 census, Colon lived in Jones County with his wife Rebecca and young son John W., Calvin lived in Perry County with his wife Mary Ann and daughter Sarah Ann, Amelie also lived in Perry County alone, Samuel lived in Hillsboro, a town in Scott County. Some of the descendents of Colon still live in the Jones County area.

At some point in time, a move was made north by the three surviving children of Samuel. They settled in Yazoo County where they raised their families and lived out their lives. The majority of their children either lived or are still living their lives in the area. During periods of hard times many were forced to leave but a very large percentage returned when circumstances allowed.

From what we know of the lifestyles people were required to live, just to survive, for the first four generations involved in this family history we can assume that nearly all were basically farmers with the associated skills such as carpentry, farriery, butchering, etc. Since that time we have scattered to the four winds and diversified into nearly all walks of life. Naturally most of us still live in central Mississippi, but we have relatives from here to Alaska, from South Carolina to Hawaii. We are doctors, lawyers, bankers, teachers, preachers, politicians, carpenters, secretaries, yiu name it, we've probably got one.

JOSEPH COLUMBUS (1856)

LOUIS PATRICK (1859)

LAURA (1863)

MR. AND MRS. L. P. HOOD.

On Sept. 29, 1921, the Death Angel visited the home of Mrs. L. P. Hood, and claimed for his own the dear wife and mother, and on Tuesday night following it again returned and took away the sweet spirit of our dear father.

Oh, how it grieves us to be left alone. There is no one left to keep the home fire burning or smile a welcome to us when we come home. Mother had been in bad health for several years and bore her affliction without a murmur. Her thoughts were all for the comfort and care of father. There was only twenty-four days' difference in their ages. Mother was born on February 19, of 1859, and Father was born March 10, 1959. They were united in marriage August 18 of 1879. They lived together forty-one years and eleven days, each one praying that they might live and die together.

There were nine children born to them, six boys and three girls. The oldest girl died in her infancy, leaving eight of us to mourn our sad loss, and sad we are indeed.

We cannot tell anyone how great our sorrows are for our sweet mother was ever a sweet, consoling comfort to us all. Whenever trouble overtook us we went to mother. She was always ready with a sweet smile and a cheering word. Oh, how we miss her; and father, dear father, how we miss him. There is no father now to solve our problems for us, but we will try to bear our loss the best we can, knowing that they are done with their suffering here, and they both told us that they were going from us hoping that we may live in such a manner that we can meet them over there in that beautiful, sweet and heavenly home, where there is no sad parting. We are thinking of our parents who have gone to rest, and each and every one of us think we loved them best.

We do remember our home and loved ones fair,
We remember Mother with her silvery hair
We remember the days when we were small,
Mother was ready to answer our call.

When we were sleepy and wanted a nap

We'd call for Mother and climb on her lap.

Then don't forget Father, just keep in mind

Though ever so tired he was always kind.

He took us on his knee and rocked us to sleep,

And his tender, loving words were ever so sweet.

When we were sick and needed care

No matter how tired Mother was there.

She did not leave us, she was always in sight,

Mother watched over us by day and by night.

It was Mother Love that always kept her awake,

She never would murmur though her cares were great.

Mother was feeble, the time grew near.

We loved Mother so when she was here.

The years have passed and Mother has gone to meet her loved ones in Heaven above; their lips grew cold and their eyes grew dim.

There is no one here now to hear our call but we will try to meet them in Heaven above.

The funerals both took place at Primitive Church, Mother's on Friday, Sept. 30, and Father's on October 5. Rev. Jeff Wilkerson and J. W. Woods officiated. There was a large crowd gathered to pay their last respects to our dear ones.

Written by their broken-hearted daughter,

MATTIE LOGGINS.

Benton, Miss., R. F. D., No. 2.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of thanking the good people of this community for their kind assistance in nursing our dear parents. We certainly do appreciate the good attention of each one, and everybody who came to our home during their long illness.

Signed,
THEIR CHILDREN.

Coat of Arms

Hood

Historiography

The Hood Coat of Arms illustrated left was drawn by an heraldic artist from information officially recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Documentation for the Hood Coat of Arms design can be found in Rietstap Armorial General. Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms. In their language, the Arms (shield) is as follows:

"Ec.: aux i. et iv. c.ec.: aux 1 et 4
d'azur a une frette d'arg.; au chef de sa.,
ch. de trois croiss. d'or (Hood); au 2 ecq.
d'arg. et de sa., a la fasce de gu., br. sur l'echiquete; au 3 d'arg. a trois fascies
de gu., et au canton du meme; au ii. d'azur
a une frette d'arg.; au chef de sa., ch. de trois croiss. d'or; au iii. de gu. au chev. engr.
d'or, acc. de trois tetes de leopard du meme."

Above the shield and helmet is the Crest which is described as:

"Un choucas au nat., supp. de sa. patte dextre une ancre d'or."

When translated the blazon also describes the original colors of the Hood Arms and Crest as it appeared centuries ago.

Family mottos are believed to have originated as battle cries in medieval times. A Motto was recorded with this Hood Coat of Arms:

"ZEALOUS"

Individual surnames originated for the purpose of more specific identification. The four primary sources for second names were: occupation, location, father's name, or personal characteristics. The surname Hood appears to be locational in origin, and is believed to be associated with the English, meaning, "native of Hood, a place in Devon." The name is derived from Old English "hod", meaning, "roof or shelter." The supplementary sheet included with this report is designed to give you more information to further your understanding of the origin of names. Different spellings of the same original surname are a common occurrence. Dictionaries of surnames indicate probable spelling variations of Hood to be Hod and Hooe. Although bearers of the old and distinguished Hood name comprise a small fraction of the population there are a number who have established for it a significant place in history. They include: ROBIN HOOD; A famous English outlaw who is supposed to have lived in the reign of Richard I (1157-1199) Sherwood Forest was his headquarters. His exploits are the subject of many popular ballads, which applaud his gallantry to the ladies and his generosity in sharing among the poor the spoils of the reich. THOMAS HOOD (fl. 1582-1598); Mathematician. Fellow of the Trinity College in Cambridge (1578); here he received his M.A. in 1581. He was the first Thomas Smith lecturer in mathematics in London (1582). JOHN HOOD (1720-1783); Surveyor. He invented Hood's compass theodolite. He is said to have anticipated Hadley's quadrant.

No genealogical representation is intended or implied by this report and it does not represent individual lineage or your family tree.
